THE INTELLIGENCER.

WHEELING, FEBRUARY 22, 1900. Intelligencer's Special Edition.

'The issue of the Intelligencer this embraces a complete compendium of Admiral Dewey's career, and his famous victory over the Spanish fleet in Manila bay, who is the special and distinguished guest of Wheeling to-Lieut. Doddridge, a native of Wheeling, and who was a participant in that battle, and who is to be honored by the people of this city with a handsome testimonial of their exteem, is the subject of a historical and anecdotal sketch. The occasion which has conspired to bring these notables to Wheeling, the dedication of the tablet Henry, or the last battle of the Revo-Intion, is exhaustively treated, and other matters of relative interest. In addition, each subject is profusely illustrated.

The Intelligencer, without overstepping the bounds of its well-known modesty, believes in this special edition it offers a souvenir of "Dewey Day" that is well worth preservation.

Admiral Dewey Arrives.

Admiral Dewey, who is to be the distinguished guest of Wheeling to-day arrived last night and was escorted to the McLure house, where he received a most cordial welcome. Wheeling is particularly honored in this visit as the invitation extended to him by the city was his first official acceptance of many similar requests from more consequential municipalities.

The admiral expressed himself at the Washington last year as looking forward to his visit to Wheeling with anticipations of the liveliest pleasure, and we are confident that after he has had a taste of the quality of our hospitality he will not regret having honored us with his distinguished presence.

Lafavette and Dewey.

There are a number of people living in Wheeling who witnessed the reception given in Wheeling to Lafayette, that superb French patriot, in his tri- close to two millions. The average de the cause of Washington and the American colonies, and through his timely assistance with purse and person contributed largely to the success of American arms in that memorable struggle. He fought for liberty by the side of the great liberator, and unusual honors were paid him by a grateful

To-day Wheeling honors another man, not a foreigner, but an American, who contested in the same causefreedom-one who is the flower of the ed that Lafayette helped to plant in this country. What the French mar-quis did for this country Admiral Dew-ey accomplished as much for the oppressed and tax-ridden people of the Philippines. We were grateful to Lafayette; but we are proud of Dewey Lafayette assisted; Dewey executed The American admiral is the greater because he fought alone in strange seas, without a friend at hand, and where there was no escape in the case of defeat. With Lafayette there were tread to-day is made doubly sacred by the fact that it was once pressed by the feet of Lafayette, and we are sure the eminent American whom we honor will be proud of the distinction and the opportunity in following such an illustrious champion of the propaganda of political freedom and the best manbood the nations of The earth know to-day.

If Washington Were Alive.

If George Washington were alive today he would see a magnificent nation of forty-five states raised from the original thirteen whose western boundary was then marked by the then myszerious Mississippi river, and the moun of the ocean was only heard on the east and the jagged reefs of the far north. In place of the cabin and the plicate matters. The four women del-bloc khouse he would now see wongroup cities and pleasant towns, the draw. Hence the last General Contrackless vales and valleys transformed into paths of commerce, over which rush the nighty means of communication and transportation that were never dreamed of in his philosophy; the se-crets of the earth and the dull, cold earth have been given up; on the far islands of the Pacific floats the flag whose folds never waved a benison beyond the murky flood that now leavens lands beyond its western banks are now, like Egypt was of old, the granary of the world, besides giving their nations. The lulling waves of the Pa-cific are bur a short distance from the roar of the rolling surges of the Atlantic, while in Washington's day the voyage of discovery was yet new. The other tremendous transformations of this country, which was still in the morning of time when Washington for the last time looked on its fair face from the porch of Mt. Vernon, are too stupendous to contemplate in the atmosphere of the hurry and haste of to-day, but it is not a violent assumption to claim that Washington, if he were alive to-day, would be very much surprised at the character of the celebration of the anniversary of his birth in Wheeling, and would be puzzled to recognize the distinguished gentleman

As was intimated some time ago the two factions of the uscless Populist party have agreed to go their devious ways alone. The ruction occurred at meeting of the national committee at Lincoln, Neb. The Middle-of-the Road element has been opposed to fusion all along, they resented the idea of having their identity sunk in the Democratic party, and declared in favor of straight-out nominations. Besides they had no use for Bryan. The contentions that have been going on culminated at morning comprises sixteen pages, and Lincoln in a separation of the ele-Road people selecting Cincinnati as the place and May 9 as the time for holding a national convention. If the bolt had not occurred at the present time it would most assuredly have taken place at the convention, so that much of the complex situation has been untangled

The fusionists of the Populist com mittee, those who are friendly to Mr. Bryan, have decided to hold their national convention at Sioux Falls, S. D. on the same date the seceders will be deliberating in Cincinnati. Mr. Bryan will, beyond all peradventure, be the nominee of the Sloux Falls convention commemorating the siege of Fort and it is claimed that Judge Henry Clay Caldwell, of Arkansas, will be his running mate. The fusionists assert that Caldwell is willing and that Bryan is pleased, and further claim that the nominees will be acceptable to the Democrats, and therefore we may be prepared to speak of the next Democratic national ticket as Bryan and Caldwell. But what will the eastern Democrats say to this? There appears to be too much western flavor in that combination, and George Fred Williams and Aligold may have something to say before the scheme is consum mated. It is a lovely situation for the Democratic party, as it stands.

Elequent Figures.

There is no better indication of pros perity than the returns of the sav ings banks, and the prosperous character of the times last year is exempli fied in the statement of the condition of these banks in New York state, which is a marvelous showing. According to the returns the amount due depositors in the savings institutions of that state January 1, 1900, was $887,time the committee visited him in 480,650, an increase of 3812,810,678 in nine years, more than half of which have been bad ones. The amount due de-positors is made up of the deposits and the accumulation of interest. Persons not familiar with savings bank figures do not realize how large a portion the deposits are withdrawn, which adds additional significance to the showing

The total resources of the banks are just over one billion dollars; the excess of resources over the claims of depos ltors being $112,728,449. Nine years ago the number of open accounts was less than a million and a half; it is now umphal march through the United posit has increased not quite $60 in States. He had cast his fortunes with eight years, and while this is a very small accumulation the facts that the average deposit is nearly $450, and that there is an average of more than one depositor to a family throughout the state, show how substantial a provis on for loss of health or employment has been gradually accumulated.

> Important Meeting of Methodists. The quadrennial session of the Gen-eral Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which meets in Chicago the entire month of May, will be the most important ecclesiastical gathering of the year. For the first time laymen will sit in equal numbers with the ministers, making a body of nearly 800 delegates. The growth of this denomination has been most wonderful.

In 1800 this denomination had only eight conf rences, while how they have 147 annual organizations. The wnole number of Hiperant preachers then riding on horseback through the forests and over the bills and fording the rivavenues of escape. The conditions, how-ever, do not belittle the sacrifices of ministers, with 14,232 local preachers. ministers, with 14,289 local preachers, the Frenchman if they do exalt the A century ago there were but 64.894 daring and bravery of the American. lay numbers, will and colored. To-The ground on which Admiral Dewey day the Natuodist year book, just out gives the total membership at 2,871,349, with a Sunday school army of over 3,000,000. The number of churches is 27,000, the probable value of which is $116,275,007. The number of parsonages is nearly 11,000, the value of which is $18,341,311. The Philadelphia Press, in anticipating the matters that will come before this conference, says that they will be of the most vital importance to the church. "One of the first things," says the Press, "the body will do will be to provide for the admission of the provisional lay delegates. Their admis-sion is highly probable, but not abso-lutely certain. We are informed that one woman has been elected as a lay delegate, but that she is being persunded to withdraw so as not to comference refrained from passing upon the eligibility of women as delegates, but the church has taken all the con stitutional steps looking toward equ lay representation, and it is feared that if the one woman delegate should press her claim it might seopardize the admission of the provisional lay delegates. Defining the constitution of the the soil of the Mississippi valley in its church is a subject the wisest commis-journey to the guif. The then unknown sions and committees have wrestled sions and committees have wrestled with for years, but no report would the conference adopt. Such able ecclesias-tical lawyers as Bishop Merrill and precious metals to add to the wealth of Rey. Dr. T. B. Neely, as chairman and secretary respectively of the last con ference, falled to secure the adoption of their report. This time an entirely new committee of six laymen, six minnew report. Its fate will be interesting

The question of the itinerancy will not down. Many Methodists feel that ministers ought not to be compelled to move simply because the calendar and the clock say go. They believe where pastor and people are agreed the minister ought to stay. There is certainly a growing opposition to the present limit. The coming conference will likely determine whether this ancient feature of Methodism will go or stay.

The question of amusements is likely to come up again. Four years ago un effort was made to change the rule against "dancing, theatres, horse races, circuses or playing a game of chance," but the effort failed. There is a sentiment in favor of not naming a list of objectionable amusements, but favors emphasizing the general rule on the question, which says the members shall avoid "taking such diversions as cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus." It is not likely that the Gen-It is not likely that the General Conference will ever give legal consent to Mcthodists engaging in the above named amusements, which are now specifically prohibited by the

The Market Street Misinformer has queer ways of arguing on the refunding ordinance. It accuses the city council of extravagance and mismanagement and intimates prospective plundering by that body, and in the next breath it is voluble in praise of its work, maintaining that the city has been getting along nicely and gradually extricating itself from a financial dilemma.

The only interest manifested in the municipal elections of Pennsylvania on Tuesday was in the outcome of the con-test in Philadelphia. The result in that city shows that the Municipal Reform League gave both parties a run for their money, in which the Democratic candidates suffered most.

The Boers are now, for the first time since the war began, put on the defen-sive, and future conflicts promise to ore bloody, for they will now be fighting for their homes. In such de fense man becomes doubly desperate.

What a thick silence the Register maintains in regard to crediting Delegate Hecker with a speech in the Trades Assembly meeting that was made by Delegate Hays, a citizen of the state of Ohio.

The Intelligencer takes this occasion to acknowledge the kindly interest manifested by the Parkersburg State Journal in "Dewey Day" in this city, and hopes to have opportunity to reciprocate.

The Democratic members of the Ken tucky legislature have again declared that Goebel and Beckham were elected. How easy it is to declare things in Kentucky without proving them.

To have added to the reminiscent character of the occasion to-day and given it local color Wheeling should have borrowed a few Indians.

Our men who are fastless and brave;
There was Hobson's and Cushing's days

tion.

Makes bright the dark, stormy wave:
May the star of their fame blaze forever
As bright as Old Liberty's sun:
May hearts just as true be found ever,
In facing the great modern gun.

There are Sampson and Schley, our com manders.

Who won for our navy a name:
They fought for the "Btar-Spangled Ban

That waved o'er the ill-fated Maine. And Wainwright, who stormed to destruct Spain's fleets in a tropical sun. He proved to the world our perfection In handling the great modern sun.

There is Dewey, the king of the ocean,
The star of our navy to-day;
His squadron threw Spain in commotion,
And open'd the road to decay.
In the roar of the cannon's joud thunder
Humanity's battle was won,
And the flag of that empire went under
In facing his great modern gun.

All hall to our country's brave seamen,
The active, the tried and the true,
All hall to our emblem of freemen.
The flag of the Red. White and Blue;
May the army and navy forever
Hold on to the laurels they've won;
May all tynams and trailors, together,
Bow down to our great modern gun.

Meeting of the State League of Republican Clubs.

To the Republicans of West Virginia.

The time has come for aggressive action on the part of all adherents of our great narty, which is now, as ever, the party of vital and positive principles. This year, as heretyfore Republicanism means patrictism. It therefore behooves the friends of good government everywhere to use all honorable means to persputate Republican principles by bringing about the election by overwhelming majorities of the Republican national, state and local nominees in the pending campaign. Such effort should not cease until victory is won.

In view of the great influence for good wielded by club organizations in distributing political literature and arousing schuling political literature and arousing schuling and the companion of the day, a meeting of the West Virginia State League of Republican Clubs is hereby called for
